

Nikolaos Tsolis is Graduate of Department of Information technology, Faculty of Positive Study, Greek Open University (2006).

He is holder of Postgraduate Title of Studies in the ADMINISTRATION of SERVICES of HEALTH YOU, Greek Open University, Faculty of Social Study on the subject Diplomatic Work: "CROSS-CORRELATION OF INFORMATIVE BEHAVIOR WITH THE GROWTH OF INFORMATIVE SYSTEMS IN HOSPITAL: The CASE of GENERAL HOSPITAL ATHENS "Georgios Gennimatas"" (2013).

He is Candidate Doctor in the Department of Information technology of University Piraeus with object of research in the Electronic Health. He has multiannual Professional Experience in the Health, he has been in places of responsibility at his Professional Career and in the Administration of Work of Information technology in the Health, National Scope.

From January 2015 he is Executive of Address of Electronic Governing of Health, Department of Electronic Services of Health, Health Ministry. From 2011 he is person in charge for the Safety of Personal Data in Completed Informative Systems in the Health. He has been Special Adviser of Undersecretary of Health on issues Technologies of Information technology, Telecommunications and Internet (June 2014 - January 2015) and Special Collaborator of Minister of Health on issues Technologies of Information technology, Telecommunications and Internet (September 2013 - June 2014). He has publications in Scientific Magazines and statements in Congresses. He speaks English and French.